On March 28, 2022 we visited IDP at Lay Tong Ku Heath Center. There were 9 families approximately 50 persons. Most of them were women and children. As much as we can for the first thing, we gave them oil and dry noodles for every family also a shelter for them to rescue.

Later a few hours, there were more villagers arrived at Lay Tong Ku Health Center. They came from a different places; some came by foot and some by machine. As we can see in the picture below, there were so many approximately 170 persons in total.

We met with Thai local leaders and discussed about the plan for the villagers.

Maw Ta Lya IDP camp

Her name is Naw Eh Mu La, 21 years old. She come from Jay Pa Let. She gave birth to Naw Kli Thoo, two-day old baby girl in the forest. Luckily, in their group they have one mid-wife help her for labor. She is healthy and her mom is in the stage for recovery.

In speaking, food is the main source for human to live but medication is also important as well to keep us health. Along with the visit, we distributed medication to them. In every one day or two, our medic will walk around every IDP camp to take care of them and refer them to hospital if needed.
